

Among the Women's Clubs

Nebraska Federation President Gives Impressions of the Recent National Meeting of the Club Women—Returned Charity Workers Tell of the Conference in St. Louis—High Prices Affect Old People's Home.

Indications are that at the next biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs there will be fewer speakers and more conferences. This was the opinion of Mrs. R. Cole, president of the Nebraska Federation and leader of the Nebraska delegation, who has just returned from Cincinnati, where the conference of the general federation, the state presidents and state federation secretaries after the convention.

"It was felt," said Mrs. Cole, "that it would be advantageous to focus upon fewer subjects, that is give less time to the listening of addresses and more to the discussion of those questions of direct interest to club women."

"Also at this conference it was felt that the clubs are inclined to take up too much legislation and so a resolution was passed stating that all recommendations and requests for legislative action must be approved by the chairman of the General Federation Legislative committee or the president of the General Federation. This also is indicative of the tendency to concentrate and focus the club attention and action."

Mrs. Cole feels that the public has been misled in regard to the re-election of Mrs. Philip N. Moore as president. She says that his re-election was not, as stated, due to sympathy for her action, but that there was no movement or opposition to her election and certainly the Nebraska delegation did not at any time express any feeling other than one favoring her selection.

"Mrs. Decker," said Mrs. Cole, "decried that the whole meeting was a great development along spiritual lines. This growth was evidenced in no small degree in the sessions of the nominating committee where certainly the ruling spirit was one of courtesy and fairness."

In regard to the General Federation's attitude toward the question of woman's suffrage, Mrs. Cole said that the women interested in suffrage felt that the club women's interest would come through her interest in the children and women who work; that the club women interested in improving the condition of the child and woman laborer would feel eventually their need of the vote."

The Nebraska delegation was one of the largest there, and also, their leader asserts, "one of the most dignified and intelligent." They have not all returned, however, as yet to Nebraska. Mrs. M. H. Corbett is visiting in Pennsylvania. Mrs. C. M. Schindler went to Washington, D. C., to attend the graduation exercises of Chevy Chase; Mrs. L. I. Cowan is in Chicago; Mrs. L. G. Simon, in Canton, O.; Mrs. M. D. Cameron, in South Bend, Ind.; Mrs. Edgar Allen, in Cincinnati; Mrs. H. C. Harford, in Pennsylvania; Mrs. H. C. Casse, Nebraska's member of the General Federation board, also attended the National Conference of Charities and Corrections at St. Louis.

At the recent Conference of Charities and Corrections held in St. Louis no small interest centered in the conferences of the individual organizations. One of these which Mrs. Harriet Heller of the Detention school found of particular interest and one which should appeal to every member of the public, was the board of censorship of moving picture film manufacture. This board co-operates with the reputable manufacturers of moving picture films. Their purpose is, as the name implies, to control the pictures which may be shown to the youth of the country. Anyone who visits a moving picture establishment, sees a picture of which he doesn't approve, should get the name of the manufacturer and report the facts to the board. They then investigate, and if their judgment agrees that the picture should be withdrawn, it is withdrawn and destroyed.

The keynote of the conference is given, said Mrs. Heller, by the president, Miss Jane Addams, in her opening address on "Charity and Social Justice." Pity for the poor and hatred of injustice, she said, had long divided the people of progress in their ideals and efforts. But at last they are uniting under a common consciousness of these causes of misery to demand more just social conditions. The charitable have been led to see the industrial sources of poverty and crime, and others have come to share their compassion toward humanity. "Charity" has been obliged to recognize its movements as part of the general social tendency and as dependent upon economic, sanitation and legislation.

While from our good old words, "relief" and "charity," the old-time life is dying out, new warmth and the glow of new hope are kindling in such terms of our own times as "prevention," "amelioration" and "social justice."

Dr. Thomas Coe Little of Creighton university took part in the discussion on "The Care of the Insane," and made a most favorable impression by his talk. Miss Ida J. Joutz, Miss Clara Schaeffer, Dr. A. W. Clark and Jeff W. Bedford were other Omaha people who attended the conference.

The high price of garden stuff is complicating matters for the board of directors of the Old People's Home and they have decided to ask the public to help them supply their people with these summer necessities. Until this year the two lots adjacent to the home have been used by the institution for a garden plot, but since these have been sold this source of supply has been lost. The board finds it impossible, therefore, to give to the inmates all the fresh green stuff which they should have and so has instituted a special vegetable donation day, the last Tuesday in each month. On this day the board of managers will be at the home to receive visitors and also to welcome contributions of foodstuff.

The Story Tellers' league will hold the last meeting before the summer vacation Thursday afternoon. The program is "The Story of Patrick Henry," Mrs. G. D. Rice; "The Story of Paul Revere," Mrs. C. W. Pollard; miscellaneous, Miss Madeline Hillis.

Miss Sabra Wilson, employment secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, and Miss Mary Burnside, domestic director, are the first of the Young Women's Christian association secretaries to leave for their summer vacations. Miss Wilson, who will be away three weeks, will spend her time in Kansas City, Chicago and Oklahoma. Miss Burnside, who will not return until the opening of the fall term, has gone to Monmouth, Ill.

The question of women as judges is being brought to the attention of the philanthropic workers by the visits of women to the courts and their realization of what it would mean if there were women judges, especially in the police courts, for the trial of women. During the last few weeks a number of well known women have sat on the bench in the various courts in New York state, and guests of the presiding judges. The opinions of these women are being carefully noted in favor of women judges. Mrs. Harriet M. Johnston-Wood says:

represent the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and she will also represent the American Academy of Social and Political Science, the Philadelphia League of Home and School associations, and the Woman's Club of Swarthmore.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker writes on "The Woman's Club Movement" in the May issue of the Modern World of Denver. She tells a number of amusing stories showing the pleasure and profit that men have reaped from the club experiences of their wives. Mrs. Decker says: "We have gained a blessed fellowship and camaraderie with our husbands, sons and brothers, as well as with one another. Well-minded men do not fear this new liberty. In six years of travel in the interests of club and federation work, from the beautiful city home to the log cabin of a mining camp, I have found that everywhere the most enthusiastic club women are, as the Irishman would say, the men of the family."

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

A Japanese nun is not so much of an anomaly as one would think when you meet Sister Marie Louise, born in Singapore and educated at the convent of St. Mary in France. She has recently traveled 1000 miles to help the little ones in her far-off mission.

Episcopalians all over the country will be interested in the announcement that at the forthcoming convention of the diocese of Missouri the Right Rev. Dr. Daniel S. Tuttle, the venerable head of that jurisdiction and the presiding bishop of the church in the United States, will probably ask for a coadjutor. His people in Missouri believe that Bishop Tuttle, no longer young, should have some of the burdens of diocesan work shifted to other shoulders, leaving him more time to devote to the affairs of the church at large.

The magnificent Protestant Episcopal cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York city is now assured the sum of $5,000 a year after the crossing and choir shall be opened. Bishop Greer has received pledges of $2,000 for five years, in addition to the endowment income, as large. Two chapels are to be built, one in memory of Bishop Henry Hoffman and the other in memory of Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington of Grace church. The great choir arch will be completed within a fortnight. This one of the most noble religious edifices in America, worthy of comparison with European churches, will slowly grow to its full magnificence. And it is expected that the choir and crossing will be dedicated at the feast of St. John the Evangelist, December 27. This part of the cathedral will cost $200,000. It is stated that the cathedral when finished will take fourth place among the sanctuaries of Christendom. The larger are St. Peter's of Rome, the cathedral of Seville and the Duomo of Milan.

Important Announcement!

Another Big Improvement in Laundry Work
The Acme of Sanitation Has Been Reached by
THE MODEL LAUNDRY

A TOWER sixty feet high has recently been completed by the Model Laundry in the rear of its extensive plant, and has been equipped with up-to-date apparatus for producing absolutely germ-proof water. The tower holds 25,000 gallons of water, which, by an up-to-date process, is made softer than rain water, and is filtered, and is 150 degrees hot, which destroys all germs. It is with this water that all washing is now done at the Model Laundry. And is the most perfect sanitary treatment known.

The Model is now true to its name—model in every respect—and may, without question, claim to be Omaha's Sanitary Soft Water Laundry.

It is one of the most modern, complete and extensive plants in the west, and is a permanent exposition of the best laundry work.

The public is cordially invited to call and inspect the new system.

It will be a pleasure to demonstrate the merits of the new, strictly sanitary, soft water process. This sanitary system has been installed by the Cartwright-Cape company of Chicago, which has the most up-to-date water softening and water purifying process on the market.

Familial washing, rough dried, at 6 cents per pound is a popular specialty at this establishment.

We make a specialty of hand shirt ironing. This department being handled by an "expert." Most favorable comments have been made by customers whose table linen has been so beautifully laundered, and who note the life of linen washed with absolutely pure soft water.
